Effects on other services	Your Fibre (UFB) broadband and homeline service requires mains power to operate. If power is not available (e.g. during a power outage), your broadband, and any services which run over it, may stop working unless you have battery backup in your home. Your homeline will also stop working if there is a problem with your broadband service. This means that, in the rare event that your internet connection is down or there is a power outage in your area, your home phone service (including calls to emergency services) will also stop working until your internet connection is restored. You should check with the provider of any existing essential services such as security alarms, medical alarms and EFTPOS to make sure they will operate with this fibre (UFB) broadband service.
